

INDIANA ENERGY

SAVER PROGRAM

Save Energy. Cut Costs.

The Home Energy Rebate Programs

Empowering Hoosiers to Enhance Home Energy Efficiency

Program Overview

- $8.8 billion is allocated for the Home Energy Rebate programs by federal legislation signed into law on August 16, 2022.
- Indiana has been allocated approximately $182 million from federal funds under the U.S. Department of Energy.
- The initiative aims to assist Indiana residents in reducing energy costs through energy efficiency improvements.

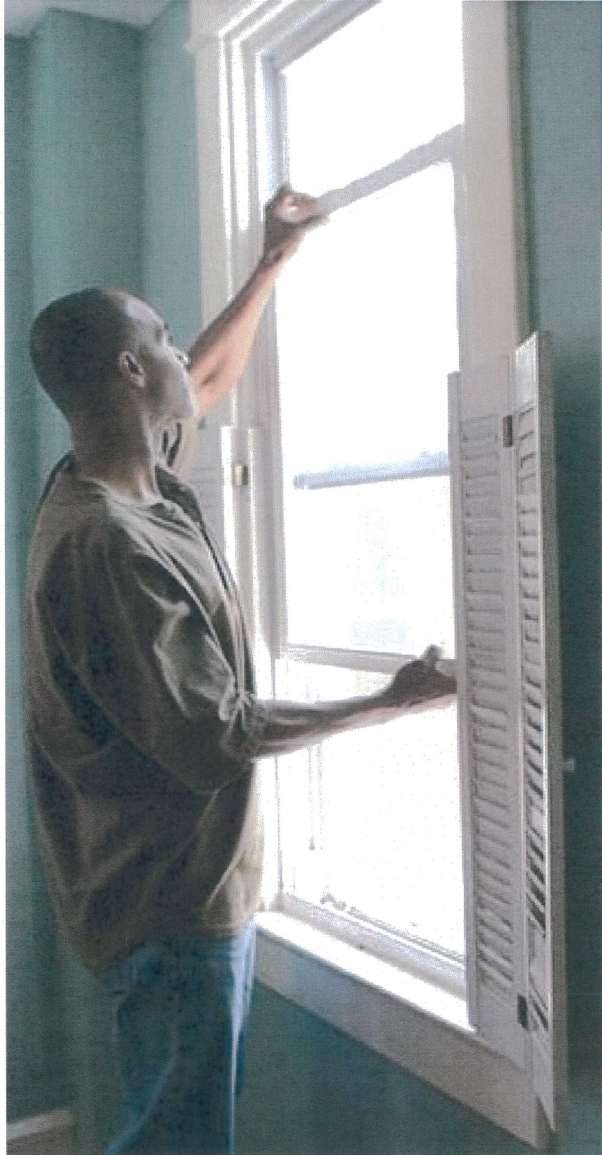

Two distinct programs:

Home Efficiency Rebate Program (HOMES)

Whole-home retrofits to enhance energy efficiency.

Home Appliance Rebate Program (HEAR)

Installation of new appliances that use less energy.

Home Efficiency Rebate Program (HOMES)

Focus: Achieve energy savings targets through whole-home retrofits.

Eligible Upgrades:

- Whole-Home Retrofits: Includes air sealing, insulation, HVAC systems, water heaters and other energy efficiency improvements.

Program Eligibility:

- Available to all households with higher rebate offerings for low-income households.
- Applicable to both single-family and multifamily residential units.
